

OUTSTANDING YOUNG ENGINEER AWARD

Recognizes an outstanding young MTT-S member who has distinguished him/herself through achievement(s) that may be technical (within the MTT-S Field of Interest), may be exemplary service to the MTT-S, or may be a combination of both.

Dietmar Kissinger

received the Dipl.-Ing., Dr.-Ing. and habil. degree in electrical engineering all from the FAU Erlangen-Nürnberg, Germany, in 2007, 2011 and 2014, respectively. Since 2015, he has been a Full Professor at the Technische Universität Berlin and Head of the Circuit Design Department at IHP, Frankfurt (Oder). He is a co-director of the Joint Lab for Radio Frequency Integrated Systems, FAU Erlangen-Nürnberg. His research interests include silicon high-frequency and high-speed as well as low-power integrated systems for communication and automotive, industrial, security and biomedical sensing applications. He has authored or co-authored over 200 technical papers and holds several patents.